Making Connections: Choosing to Love

Thursday February 12, 3:30-4:30 EST in the Science Building, Room 101
Presented by Gina Verseman, Director of Counseling Services CUAA

Understanding yourself is a key component to understanding yourself in relation to others. Ever had a student (or anyone, for that matter) with whom you've experienced difficulty relating, connecting, or understanding - let alone teaching? Then this opportunity is for you! Come and experience a gentle model founded in solid theory which will assist you in developing awareness as to why you do what you do and why others do what they do. This information will help you experience full freedom to make choices about how to connect, encourage and motivate in ways that are healthy and productive for yourself as well as those you desire to teach, train, and educate. Register here.

Making It Stick:

Using Cognitive Science for Successful Learning

Tuesday February 24, 3:30-4:30 EST

in the Union Training Center

Facilitated by

Jeffery Schwehm, Associate Professor of Chemistry and Michael O-Leary, Director of Library Services CUAA

This workshop is based on the book "Make It Stick: The Science of Successful Learning". Participants will be introduced to what cognitive science tells us about the way the brain learns and stores information and how this knowledge can be used to in the classroom.

Changes to Copyright and Fair Use: What Faculty Need to Know

Thursday March 5, 2:00-3:00 EST

In the Union Training Center

This live webinar will be led by

Linda Enghagen, J.D.

Register here.

About the webinar: On October 17, 2014 much of what you knew about avoiding copyright infringement and following best practices has changed because of the Georgia State University e-reserves case. This seminar will dig into new guidance the ruling provides on copyright infringement and best practices in fair use for colleges and universities. Read more here.

*"But this I call to mind, and therefore I have hope:
The steadfast love of the LORD never ceases;
his mercies never come to an end; they are new every morning;
great is your faithfulness." (Lamentations 3:21-23 ESV)*
