

MARIA BECKER, MLIS

Instruction, Reference, and Research Support Librarian

Instruction

I am available to meet with your class either in-person or virtually to present about library resources and research skills. I work with both undergraduate and graduate courses in all departments.

Possible instruction topics include:

- Using the library website and databases
- Strategies for effective searching
- Evaluating the quality of sources
- Using Zotero and staying organized during research
- And more!

Sessions can be as short as 15 minutes or as long as a class period. Contact me to schedule a library instruction session!

Research Support

I am available to help both you and your students on a one-on-one basis during any stage of the research process and during any point in the school year.

Possible research questions include:

- How do I find scholarly sources for my topic?
- What are the best databases to use for my topic?
- How do I access a full text copy of this article?

I can be reached via email, phone, the Ask A Librarian form, the library chat feature, or in person at the library.
